EMPLOYER COMMENTS:

ENGINEER COMMENTS:

- Proposed CCTV camera were found to be SIRA approved as per data sheet. However, it is not matching in the schedule of materials.
- For NVR, proposed DS7732NI-K4 found to be SIRA approved, however, DS-7208-K4 is not, pls. Clarify. Moreover, attached SIRA certificate is not matching with the proposed model which is DS-9632NI-1B.
- Response to comment no. 1 is not accepted, however, it shall be Contractor responsibility in case any rejection form SIRA inspection, wherein no time and cost impact shall be permitted.
- Data sheet for videowall (42 inches) and workstation (32 inches) is still missing.
- 32inches monitor is missing in the schedule of materials.
- Schedule of material shall include the product model number as commented in previous revision.
- Time synchronization and anti-tampering time protection shall be available.
- There is a great mismatch between the schedule of materials page 179 and the technical datasheets shared.
- The proposed solution from a technical datasheets point of view seem to be SIRA compliant and acceptable but the schedule of materials is not. Mismatch can be clearly seen in following examples: 4MP CCTV technical datasheet, vs 2MP proposed camera in schedule of rates. Similarly, technical datasheets of Seagate Hard drives are shared, while schedule of rate states Western Digital (WD).

The checking and approval by the Engineer shall not relieve the Contractor of his obligation to perform the work in accordance with the contract documents and requirements of safety.
